

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

If plans of the political managers do not mature, there will be no such record of voters staying away from the polls today as was made at the annual town election on the first Monday in October. More than 1,000 of Killington's election did not participate in the town election this year, and this fact has prepared party leaders to stir voters out of their slumber and get them to the polls today. This election will have more than ordinary snap in it. Danielson and other parts of the town of Killington. The democrats pulled many votes in the October election and are bidding for victory today, a fact that is fully realized by the republican leaders.

All aside from party politics, the point is made that citizenship is a privilege, and in many minds, an all important duty of citizenship. There are those who go to the extreme of asserting that those who are entitled to vote and do not do so, unless for some very good and sufficient reason, should be disfranchised.

Of course, no one will be disfranchised for not voting in today's election. But if one would please the party leaders, one will go to the polls or submit to being brought there luxuriously reclining on cushions of some one of the fine cars that will be in use in getting out the vote.

At Danville and at East Killington Monday the polling places were being made ready. The polls will open at 8 a. m. and will close at 6 p. m. This is again repeated in order that there may be no error in the minds of the voters as to when they may vote.

Chief John McFarland said Monday morning that the police department is now reorganized in accordance with the instructions given by the court of burgess. Chief McFarland made a special request that the police be given the full benefit of all complaints will be promptly investigated and that all such complaints will have his personal attention.

Stimes C. Hall, 74, all his life a resident in the Danielson village section of this town, died at his home Monday morning. Mr. Hall was born at Putnam Heights, just a few miles from where he passed away. He had been engaged during his active years as a laborer. Mrs. Hall died 12 years ago at Christmas time. Mr. Hall leaves two sons, Leon of Attawapung and Harry of Putnam and a daughter, Jennie, at home.

At St. John's church in Danville Monday morning funeral services for John LaVelle were attended by many of his relatives and friends. Rev. Frederick Coleman of St. Mary's church, Greenfield, was celebrant of the high mass of requiem. The body was taken to St. Mary's cemetery, Lowell City, for burial. Burial was by Joseph LaVelle, Alfred LaVelle, Eugene Raymond, Eugene Barre, Elmer Barre and Alvin Bergeron, Louis E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

At her home on Reynolds street funeral services for Mrs. George W. Brown were conducted by Rev. Walter B. Williams of the Westfield Congregational church, where Mrs. Brown attended service for many years. W. W. Hall sang two hymns during the service which was attended by a delegation of the members of Danielson chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. Burial was in Westfield cemetery, where the committee service was conducted by Eastern Star members. The bearers were John Lewis, Walter Blake, George B. Gullis, and Orrey E. Potter. A. F. Wood was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Members of Ross of Lima council, K. of C. have plans completed for a social evening tonight at their rooms in the tall building. Election returns that are to be supplied by radio will be a pitch argument and central election refreshments will be served and there will be a liberal supply of cigars to be smoked up while the wireless is telling story of what has happened in the battle of ballots.

The Connecticut company has given the people of East Killington an extra cash week day draw. The prizes for this place are now available at 1.10, 2.10, 5.10 and 10.10. For every car let at 2.10, but this is replaced by a 1.10 and a 5.10 trip. This extra trip will not be made on Sunday.

In the town court Monday morning James Creighton was sentenced to serve 10 days in jail, the charges against him being intoxication and breach of the peace.

This week the Treble Cliff club is to meet with Mr. and Mrs. George P. Davison.

Numbers of former residents who remain their voting right here will be in town to cast their ballots in today's election. Richard Reeves and Earl Bartlett are to go to Clearwater, Fla., where they are to be employed during the winter season.

A delegation of local women will be in Hartford next Saturday to attend a conference of Catholic Women's Council representatives from many parts of the state.

Attention is again called to the fact that Killington's school is just undertaking its season's work. There is no charge for attendance at the school, the expense is shared between town and state.

The selectmen have prepared notice of the election for the town of Killington.

BEEHIVE TRUCK DRIVER

FINED $200 AND COSTS (Special to The Bulletin) Danielson, Nov. 6.—Justice Matthews' court in Central Village, Monday afternoon John Winters charged his plea from not guilty to guilty of illegally transporting intoxicants through this state and was fined $200 and costs, a total of $250, which was paid. Winters, the Providence truck driver who was arrested last week while driving a beer-laden truck through the town of Plainfield. The beer showed an alcoholic content of about 3.75. Winters signed a waiver to the ownership of the beer, which is being held at the state police barracks here. Without doubt the beer was not the property of Winters, and without doubt no one will appear to claim it—the risk is too great.

John A. Carroll of Concord, Mass., was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Monday.

And now more signs are wanted to warn of the dangerous streets at the junction of Reynolds and Broad, where the trunk line to Providence comes through. There have been some narrow escapes from had crashes there recently.

Delegations from different parts of the town of Killington came Monday evening to attend the republican rally in the town hall, an account of this meeting appearing elsewhere this morning. All of the first apparatus at the central station as bright as a new pin for the Armistice day parade here on Saturday. The General Putnam steamer will go out with the other apparatus.

It may not be too late this election morning to set aside some of the bad effect of an untruthful campaign story to the effect that John Ash, republican candidate for senator from the 25th senatorial district, which includes nine of the fifteen towns of Windham county is not opposed the efforts to keep standard time firmly established and universally observed in Connecticut. One of the things being said by some of Mr. Ash's opponents is that he favors daylight saving for the summer period of the year. Such a story without any foundation whatever and is being repeated for no other purpose than to injure Mr. Ash at the polls today.

It is well known that William Kempf, who escaped from Brooklyn jail, will reappear in this city, which has been a favorite haunt of his for many months up to the time of his arrest about three weeks ago. Kempf was arrested in Danielson and brought here to answer in the city court to charges that he stole a fine automobile and a suit case containing other clothing from another car. He pleaded guilty to the charges and in default of bonds was held at the county jail until the January term of the superior court, to which he was bound over.

Kempf claims to hail from Ohio, but made an adequate explanation of being in this territory and for months was without visible means of support, although he was well dressed. He claimed to be a veteran of the World War and said he had been wounded in action.

Thomas P. Ryan, city clerk will act as moderator at today's election in Putnam. There will be but one polling place in this town—the town hall building on Church street. The list of election workers was completed Monday and those appointed will be on hand at the polls this morning for the opening of the polls.

Both political parties will establish headquarters from which to direct the all-important work of getting out the vote. This evening election returns will be available for the public and will tell of the results not only of the principal contest, but also in various other states. Union square probably will hold a large crowd as the returns are to be magnified from a telephone booth. The returns will be announced as to how things have gone in Windham county towns. The returns should begin to come in early and local results should be known by 8 or 9 o'clock.

Parsons of the St. Ouge building in Main street by the Putnam State bank has aroused widespread interest in this city. The story as it appeared in this column Monday morning gave many their first information relative to the important transaction. Treasurer Daniel J. Byrne of the bank said Monday that the institution's officials are not ready at this time to set forth further details of plans for the use of the property by the bank. Such an announcement will have to wait until later.

County Agn. F. L. Davis met a group of poultrymen and poultrywomen at Miss Anna Ruddy's home last Friday, and a poultry club was organized. This club will be known as the Hampton poultry club. C. B. Jewett, town director of the Windham County Farmers' association, was chosen president, and Miss Anna P. Ruddy secretary.

Great interest was manifested in poultry club work as it was explained by the county agent, and it is the feeling of those who direct club applications that a high class business course in poultry is in store for them. Roy E. Jones, poultry specialist will meet this club monthly. Feed cost and production records are to be kept at once.

Among those who joined the Hampton Poultry club are: Mrs. Mabel Pearl, W. A. Pease, Carrie E. Nichols, Frank A. Nichols, Jesse L. Burnham, Ray P. Fuller, Mrs. Joseph Hoffman, C. B. Jewett, Carl W. Jewett, C. F. Merrill, Fred H. Pitts, Anna P. Ruddy.

Heavy shipments of hard coal are now going northward through this city, a fact that makes Putnam people realize that there are other and more northern New Englanders who are as yet without a supply of fuel as the case of this city. On Monday about every freight train hauled some coal through this territory and during the past few days some of the trains made up nearly 50 per cent. with coal laden cars.

Attention is called to the fact that the polls will open at 8.30 o'clock this morning in the municipal building. The first half hour of the day's voting period will afford workers an opportunity of casting their ballots before going to their daily round of duty.

In these days of fuel shortage that Putnam Light and Power company is going along the even tenor of its way with no reason at all to worry about a coal shortage or the reason responsible for it. The lighting company, which furnishes service for all and surrounding towns, uses oil for fuel at its Mechanicsville plant and has no difficulty in obtaining a supply of this commodity.

PARISIAN SAGE

Put Hair on Your Head and Helps to Keep It There.

What's the use of being bald? What sense is there in deliberately allowing your hair to become dry, faded, scraggly and ugly looking?

Do you want to look old before your time? Give up the thought; old age will come all too soon.

Look after your hair. Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies hair needs—is just what you want. It prevents grayness and baldness by putting new life and nourishment into the starved and dying hair roots.

Man or woman, no matter how old you are, Parisian Sage will help you to look younger and more attractive. Go to Lee & Osgood Co. or any drug or toilet counter and get a large bottle today. It's inexpensive and your money back if it does not banish every sign of baldness or of falling hair and itching scalp.

Parisian Sage will make your hair luxuriant, bright and beautiful. It's a most refreshing, pleasant and invigorating hair dressing, and absolutely harmless to the hair and scalp.

election is concerned, Putnam is more than ordinarily interested in the voting for secretary of state, G. Harold Gilpatrick of this city being the nominee to succeed himself. In his home city and in surrounding towns it is forecast that he will receive a splendid vote and it was predicted here Monday that he will run well ahead of his ticket in this territory.

The younger and more ingenious radio fans—the boys who build or assemble much of the apparatus required—have opened a new field for the disposal of used storage batteries from automobiles. Judge M. H. Gelseler presided at a session of the city court Monday morning. The case of one man charged with having been intoxicated was disposed of without imposing a jail sentence.

Although this (Tuesday) evening is the regularly set night for the monthly meeting of the common council, it is possible the council may follow a former practice of adjourning election night to some future date.

The fire department is expected to make a fine showing in the Armistice day parade next Saturday. Three pieces of motor driven apparatus, including the splendid new ladder truck, will be in line and the members of the department newly all-informed in uniform blue suits.

A number of Putnam republicans moved to Danielson Monday evening to attend the closing rally of the campaign—a meeting at which the principal address was made by Congressman Richard P. Freeman.

Mrs. Stanley Eaton of Pittsburgh, Mass., has been visiting her brother, R. K. Jones.

Miss Frances Hammond of Santa Barbara, Cal., has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William R. French Jr.

William Sault of Hartford has been spending a few days with his nephew, Mr. Finley.

Mrs. James Muller of Farmington and Miss Helen Mathew of Hartford have been visiting their parents in town.

William Phelps of Westchester was a recent guest of Bolton friends.

Mr. Finley, Jr., spent last week at Newburgh, Conn. club.

Twenty-six hunters' licenses have been issued by the local town clerk, 25 to residents and one to a non-resident.

Miss Louise J. Hutchinson of Hartford spent the week-end in town.

Misses Elizabeth Daly and Margaret Daly were in town from South Manchester and East Hartford Sunday.

GOVERNOR LAKE ISSUES AMNESTY DAY PROCLAMATION Governor Lake on Monday issued a proclamation naming Saturday, November 11, as Armistice Day. He said in part: "I recommend that on this day, the national flag be displayed on all public buildings of the state and I request that such general observance of the day be had as to give evidence that its significance is fully appreciated by all people. On that day let us pause to honor the brave and noble men who have sacrificed their lives for the preservation of our country in time of peril."

Drawn from actual photograph of little May Janette Martin, daughter of Mrs. J. Claude Martin, 1951 4th Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

While her Daddy was away in the War

LITTLE MAY JANETTE was a "war baby" born while her father was in the service. Mrs. Martin, finding it necessary to return to her work, started her baby on Borden's Eagle Brand Milk. As May Janette's five little cousins were brought up on Eagle Brand, naturally Mrs. Martin had great confidence in it. And with good reason. For May Janette—now three-and-a-half years old—"is strong, sturdy and full of life and energy" her mother says.

Don't experiment with your baby's food. Eagle Brand has been the standard infant food for many years. Countless mothers, like Mrs. Martin, have found that it made their babies strong and well. Thousands of physicians have recommended it for babies who were underweight and undernourished. For Eagle Brand is very easily digested.

Actually Borden's Eagle Brand Milk contains nothing but pure milk and pure sugar. It is the natural food if mother's milk is not available. It is always pure and uniform. You can get it anywhere.

VOLUNTOWN The funeral of Michael McGuire, who died Nov. 1st in Voluntown of heart disease, was held from the home of his niece, Mrs. John D. Hall, with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful showing the esteem in which Mr. McGuire was held in the village. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGuire of Greenwood, R. I. but for the past two years had made his home in Voluntown.

He is survived by two brothers and three sisters. Mrs. Charles Lawrence and William McGuire of Greenwood, R. I., Mrs. Nathan Bitgood and Thomas McGuire of Voluntown, also several nieces and nephews. A niece, Sister Mary Theodora is in the convent in Springfield.

ANNOUNCEMENTS College Convocation Speakers The lecturer at convocation this (Tuesday) afternoon at 4 o'clock at Connecticut college will be Rev. Edward M. Chapman of New London. His subject will be The Frame of Our College and with it will be shown the picture, The Connecticut of Earlier Days.

Dr. Chapman has made an extensive study of New England history and tradition, and as a native of Connecticut and resident of New London he presents a subject on Tuesday which will be of unusual local interest.

He has for several years occupied the chair of Biblical literature at Connecticut college, and his lecture is awaited with pleasure by all those who hold his work in great esteem.

Dr. Chapman is known as the author of The Dynamics of Christianity, English Literature in Account with Religion, and Companions of the Way. He is also a contributor of essays and reviews to magazines.

IRISH REGIMENT BAND COMING TO BROADWAY Charles A. Götter, advance representative of the Irish Regiment band, was in Norwich Saturday and booked the band for an appearance at the Broadway theatre Sunday night, Nov. 12. There are 20 men in the company, including many soloists such as a soprano singer, cornetists and bag piper. They play only Irish music of the old and new school. The band is under Captain, wholesome humorous and decided entertaining story.

The audience were entertained, amused and pleased by the picture in which Mr. McEnelly's Irish Regiment band was featured. The picture is a comedy and is a most interesting and convincing portrayal of the "Irish" role of Irish legend.

Mr. Walsh has given the talented direction and settings that make The Oath one of the best motion picture productions to date.

Besides this "eight-reel masterpiece" there will also be a comedy and news.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Charlotte Crabtree (Lotta) once famous to the American stage, is 75 years old today.

The House of Representatives of the 66th congress will be chosen in the election today.

In thirty-three of the states the voters will make their selection of United States senators.

In twenty-nine states governors and other state officials are to be selected by the voters.

In several of the other states the election will be confined to judges and minor state officials.

Important initiative and referendum measures and constitutional amendments will be submitted to the voters in many of the states.

Bonuses for soldiers, the sale of light wines and beer, bond issues for public utilities and highways, and changes in election laws will be included among these proposals.

The names of fourteen women appear on the ballots as candidates for congress—women who are serving in the senate and ten seeking election to the house of representatives.

Fifty years ago today one of the greatest mysteries of the sea had its solution when the brig Mary Celeste sailed from New York. About a month later the vessel was picked up off the Azores with her mail and everything on board in perfect order, but with no person aboard. What had happened to the vessel and what became of her crew was never explained. The mystery was solved when the body of one of the crew was found.
